

Bologna, 15th June 2022

Dear IMPS 2022 Annual Meeting delegates,

On behalf of Bologna Welcome Convention and Visitors Bureau, I am really pleased to welcome you in Bologna!

The 87th International Meeting of the Psychometric Society will give you the chance to personally experience our destination, with its long-established tradition of hospitality that pervades and animates the city. I hope that in these days you will have the opportunity to fully experience and appreciate the rich history, art, traditions, open, authentic and friendly spirit of our city, as well as to live very profitable days from a professional point of view.

Its central geographical position is a natural crossroads for Italy and for Europe and therefore made Bologna a convenient seat of many world famous hospitals, educational institutions, research centers, manufactures with great tradition and International exhibitions hosted in its well established and known fair district.

During the spare time Bologna offers rich opportunities for relaxation, too. Just walking through the old town is a surprise for a guest: its medieval center, with its 40 km. of arcades just recently been inscribed on the UNESCO World Heritage List, is one of the best preserved in the World and more than 50 museums guard its historical and artistic heritage. Bologna is home to the oldest university in the Western World; it also has a culinary tradition that has made it famous all over the world and it is the capital of taste and quality.

The City Convention Bureau is there for you to make the most of the city. I wish you a pleasant stay and look forward to welcoming you to our beautiful city again.

Best regards,

Patrik Romano
Managing Director
